

Pyramid in Alaska

---

I was in Alaska on a business trip. At the time, Sharon, Mary and I were dabbling in meditation, so before I left on the trip it was decided that on a particular day and time we would make sure that we were alone in a quiet place. We would then mediate and see what happen. That day and time came and I was in my hotel room alone. I lay on the bed and tried to meditate, but nothing was happening. On my nightstand was a pyramid-shaped paper advertisement for something, so as a last resort, I picked it up and put it on my chest as I lay in bed. Nothing happened. In disgust, I went to sleep. When I arrived home< Mary was anxiously asking me about what happened that night. I told her exactly what happened with disappointment in my voice, when Mary started laughing nervously and told me that it was a pyramid they were thinking of at the same time.
